

Virginia Women in History 2008

Traveling Panel Exhibition from
The Library of Virginia

Six-week loan period

Virginia Women in History 2008 honors eight women, living or deceased, for their contributions to the commonwealth. Honorees in 2008 are Frances Culpeper Stephens Berkeley Ludwell (James City County), Edith Turner (Southampton County), Lucy Goode Brooks (Richmond City), Providencia Velazquez Gonzales (Dale City), Isabel Wood Rogers (Richmond City), Patricia Buckley Moss (Waynesboro), Elizabeth Bermingham Lacy (Richmond City), and Sharyn McCrumb (Montgomery County).

This is a traveling panel exhibition consisting of a single five-over-five (with headers) folding display system with images on both sides. The display is similar to this picture of a four-over-four with two headers:

Virginia Women in History 2008 measures 94" high and can open to a maximum length of 140". Text and images panels are visible on both sides, requiring that the exhibition be in an open area of approximately 120 sq. ft. (12' x 10'). Two people are required to set up the display. The unit requires minimal security but must be installed inside the venue and away from food or drink. Instructions for installation and deinstallation are included.

Each venue is required to transport the exhibition from the previous venue. The wheeled, hard-plastic case measures 51" x 32" x 16" and can fit into the back of a station wagon, SUV, or minivan. Installation instructions and LVA contact information are included in the case.

The host venue is encouraged to develop programs related to women's history in Virginia or a complementary exhibition honoring local women. NEW this year is an enhanced website with educational materials to accompany the exhibition (<http://lva.virginia.gov/vw2008/>). For more information, please contact Susan Gilliam, educational assistant, at 804-692-3999 or susan.gilliam@lva.virginia.gov.

The exhibition is available for a six-week loan period. If you wish to book this exhibition, please contact Barbara C. Batson, Exhibitions Coordinator, at 804-692-3518 or barbara.batson@lva.virginia.gov.
